Sibling Support Chat Service—Volunteers needed

TCFV recognizes that the loss of a sibling continues to have a profound impact on us as bereaved for years on. Our Sibling Support Chat Service focuses on peer support for the wellbeing of bereaved siblings above 18 years from around Australia as both an early intervention and regular support service.

To help deliver this important online service, we are looking for bereaved siblings who are interested in providing peer chat support to other bereaved siblings daily from 3pm-12am.

- Are you at least two years through your own grief journey?
- Are you aged 18 years or above?
- Prepared to undergo a Police Check?
- Ready to use your experience to help others by sharing your story and listening?
- Are you able to undertake a 2 day online and face to face chat response training session?
- Have you come developed effective self care strategies following your loss?
- Are you available to volunteer for a 3-hour weekly shift sometime between 3pm – midnight 7 days a week? Don't worry, we won't roster you for hours you're not happy to do.
